Introduction

Racial greetings to each and every one of you, my White racial comrades of the Creativity Alliance!

Allow me to introduce myself briefly to those of you who have yet to come to know me. I am Brother A.V. Winter a Creator and as such a proud member of Nature’s finest.

Enemy or Advocate, you decide. Never mind me, I am only an individual, nearly nameless, and forgotten; but I do have an identity, that identity is the White Race. If you are a member of my race, choose your side, you are either an enemy of your own kind, or an advocate for your kind. There is no in-between. Neutrality is as useful as the memories you can't recall, the dreams you'll never remember, and the places you'll never be.

My path to Creativity was paved by Ben Klassen the founder of the Church of the Creator and more specifically; the one and only true and revolutionary White racial religion of Creativity. Were it not for numerous enterprising, dedicated, and active Creators whose names I never came to know, it is uncertain whether I would have found Creativity at all. Remember that my fellow brothers and sisters the next time you have the opportunity to do something for Creativity, but feel as little as a minnow in this great big pond scheme of things. You may be one individual nameless and nearly forgotten, but you represent the greatest idea ever known to man; a religion of our own.

I awoke to Creativity because someone had the nerve to persistently teach me about the religion and its founder. I awoke to Creativity because people I never met gave their lives for the White race and the Religion of the White Race. Their heroic actions spoke louder than the din and clang of Jewish efforts to subvert and silence them. It was the actions of these White men who caused the voice of Creativity to resound throughout the world. …I listened.

It has been my wish for over a year now to spearhead the republication, redistribution of our founder’s flagship periodical, the Spearhead of the White Racial Holy War: Racial Loyalty. I am happy to say that on behalf of our great White race, we are accomplishing this beginning this month at issue 101 in the year AC 37. I would like to publically thank the former editor in chief of The Alliance newsletter, Brother Cochran for his good work these past fifteen weeks or more with getting a newsletter going. Your efforts are both noteworthy and commendable Brother Cochran, I hope to work more with you and other active Creators in the near future. On behalf of my love for the White race, and the personal invitation of our Pontifex Maximus, Reverend Cailen Cambeul, I dutifully accept my racial obligations and take on the responsibilities before me as the editor in chief of Racial Loyalty.

If you are a writer or are simply inspired to do something literary like me for your race and would like to submit something to Racial Loyalty, I request that you contact me through a private message on my profile on the Creator Forum, and submit to me a rough draft of your article for review. Do this no later than the 15th of the month, or preferably earlier if you can.

A message from our Pontifex Maximus, Reverend Cailen Cambeul

White People Awake - Save a Great Race

February 12, 37 AC (2010 CE)

Well my Brothers and Sisters, here we are at the beginning of yet another year and our Church continues to grow. This being the thirty-seventh year of our beloved religion and the third year since the founding of the Creativity Alliance, we have decided to bring some of the older tried and true methods that were once used in The Church. The most obvious being the rebirth of The Church Newsletter, which we have renamed Racial Loyalty in honour of the flagship publication of the same name under the Premier Church of Pontifex Maximus Emeritus, Ben Klassen.

Last year we re-implemented the Creator of the Year Award, which went to Reverend Doctor Thomas Darwin for not only coming up with the idea for the Creativity Alliance, but also working hard to convince the rest of us that it was time to get off our collective behinds and work for Creativity once again. Quite a feat for someone not in the best of health. Doctor Darwin himself was a member of the Church of the Creator under P.M.E. Klassen, Doctor McCartney who was selected by P.M.E. Klassen as his successor, and P.M.E. Hale who later formed the New Church of the Creator. This year we have chosen to honour as Creator of the Year, one that has already gone through his own trials and tribulations during his journey to ture Creativity. In this, the thirty-seventh year of Creativity, we honour Brother Chris Smith of New South Wales, Australia, for his diligent work in expanding the frontiers of Creativity.

Another tried and true method that has been officially put back into action this year is the reactivation of the Church Primary Group system. Although the use of Church Primary Groups never completely fell out of practice, it has been overlooked for far too long in favour of those seeking power for the sake of power, attempting to surround themselves with personal flocks of bleating sycophants in what amounts to a perversion of the Leadership Principle as outlined for us by P.M.E. Klassen. It is our hope that the enforcement of strict guidelines for the Church Primary Groups will forestall this type of behaviour in the future.

Our Church Primary Groups are under the aegis of their various National Offices. Current National Coordinators are the Liaison to Australia: Brother Chris Smith, and the Liaison to North America: Reverend Randolph Dilloway, who also remains Hasta Primus.

Church Primary Groups without a Regional or National Office remain within the aegis of the Global Office under the Pontifex Maximus. Those requiring information or assistance should contact the Hasta Primus.

All Creators are encouraged to join an existing Church Primary Group or start their own Church Primary Group. I must emphasise that without the Church Primary Groups, there is no Church of Creativity, no Creativity Alliance, and therefore no Creativity.

Paraphrasing P.M.E. Klassen, I say, “Now that you know the problem and you know the answers to the problem, you are challenged to action. You are faced with obligations that you can no longer avoid. You can no longer plead ignorant to a matter of life and death, and to do nothing is a serious indictment weighing on your conscience.

“… You have no alibi, no other way out, White Man! It's either fight or die!”

Reverend Cailen Cambeul, P.M., Creativity Alliance.

The Basis of the Organization of the Creativity Alliance
Church of Creativity Primary Groups

http://creativityalliance.com/about.htm

Grassroots Expansion and Self-Renewal

At this point in history, the most important task and challenge facing Creativity is the overwhelming need for rapid, aggressive, massive expansion of our activities and organization at the grassroots level amongst the frustrated masses of White people. The time has passed when our supporters and members in the field could be passive beneficiaries of activities centered around the leadership of The Alliance: In fact, the time has come to reverse the trend and make sure that the main activities of our Creed are coming from the field to the headquarters, not the other way around. Also, we have to make sure that our Creed becomes a self-sustaining, self-supporting, self-renewing mass movement, able to withstand any and all attacks by our racial enemies, including the possibility of destruction of our leadership by enemy forces.

What is to be Done??

In the following questions and answers we will outline the ORGANIZATIONAL FRAMEWORK for achieving our vital, overwhelming goals of GRASSROOT EXPANSION and SELF-RENEWAL:

1. Where do we start?
   -- Each Creator should start by becoming thoroughly familiar with the White Man's Bible, subscribing to the Racial Loyalty newsletter and supporting The Alliance with regular financial donations.
2 What is the second step?
-- Each Creator should introduce our ideas, leaflets, newsletters and books to as many of his relatives, friends and acquaintances as possible.

3. What is the third step?
-- Each Creator should find at least one other sympathetic White person and organize a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP.

4. What is a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP?
-- CHURCH PRIMARY GROUPS are the basic organization of the Creativity Alliance. They consist of a minimum of two persons and an optimum of five to ten persons. Each CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP is considered to be an independent regional aspect of the Church of Creativity under the umbrella of the Creativity Alliance.

5. What to name a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP?
-- Each CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP is to include the name Church of Creativity along with their regional designation to be selected by the PG Members with the approval of the National Office.

6. Who can organize a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP?
-- Every Creator has a right and a duty to organize a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP (or increase an existing PG) by converting at least one White person to the White Racial Religion -- Creativity.

7. Who selects a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP Coordinator?
-- Members of each CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP select a leader amongst themselves with the approval of the National Office. It is the responsibility of the newly selected PG Coordinator to liaise with the National Office and establish a Charter for the CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP.

8. Is there a cost in establishing a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP?
-- There is an annual administration levy of $100 to establish and maintain the Charter for your CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP. This entitles the PG Coordinator to a certificate which is held for the duration of the current PG Coordinator by the CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP, and the right to collect membership fees for the maintenance and expansion of the local Church. Upon change of PG Coordinator, it is the job of the new PG Coordinator to liaise with the National Office and establish a new Charter for the CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP.

9. What is the suggested way to resolve conflicts within a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP?
-- Each member of a CHURCH PRIMARY GROUP can leave it and form a new PG. Like all living cells. CHURCH PRIMARY GROUPS have to grow, divide and multiply, yet remain within the same body – The Creativity Alliance.

10. How do we organize different CHURCH PRIMARY GROUPS?
-- CHURCH PRIMARY GROUPS are formed on a regional basis under the supervision of the National Office. Each PG is responsible for its own actions and no PG is senior to or holds authority over another PG. The National Office at the discretion of the Pontifex Maximus, may appoint State/Provincial/Regional Coordinators as deputies to the National Office.
11. Are we planning to create special purpose PRIMARY GROUPS?
-- Yes, we can foresee a need for special defense CHURCH PRIMARY GROUPS whose members could be called WHITE RANGERS/WHITE BERETS.

Nature's Eternal Religion and the White Man's Bible
The DNA of Our Race
By Brother Cochran

Note: In actuality cell division is a causal process, one event causing the next, with no intelligence involved. For the sake of analogy I've chosen to anthropomorphize the cell and DNA because they have close parallels in our daily lives.

In Nature's Eternal Religion, Our Founder compares a healthy society to a healthy body. All of the parts work together for the good of the whole and it immediately, mercilessly attacks invaders and foreign dangers. Each cell selflessly works for the whole and the whole in turn keeps the cell alive. Each cell must have a "guide" to tell it what to do for the good of the whole. This role is filled by DNA.

DNA is the building block of life as we know it. Throughout our lives our cells endlessly divide, taking a copy of DNA with it when it goes. DNA metaphorically "tells" a cell its place in the body, how it is to act in relation to everything else, and also how to copy itself. DNA is composed of four letters -A, T, C, and G- that are abbreviations for chemicals that bind together to make DNA. This text is read three letters at a time and those three letters represent one amino acid. In turn, amino acids combine to form proteins which perform all the necessary functions to keep the cell alive and running.

Our Holy Canon- Nature's Eternal Religion and the White Man's Bible- is the ideological DNA of our race. In the same way that our biological DNA unites us in flesh and blood, so our Creed unites us in mind and purpose. It tells every individual how to act and react towards friend and foe, how to care for one another, and how to unite as a single body in our own self interest. Just as DNA is the basis of biological life, so Creativity is the basis of personal and social life. Both enable that which is built on its respective foundations to thrive.

When a cell divides it creates a copy of DNA that the new cell takes with it. If the DNA isn't copied perfectly, the information becomes useless and more often than not, the cell becomes a hindrance to the body and possibly even a disease. This is most often seen in the form of cancer. There is the off-chance that a mutation is beneficial but that chance is relatively rare.
Similarly, we must treat the text of our Holy Books with the same reverence and respect that we treat our DNA. Just as each letter of DNA is passed to the next generation, perfectly copied, so our Creed must be passed to each individual, unhindered, without shame, and without apology. As we pass the Creed along to others, we must make sure it is copied perfectly. We can't exclude parts because they're controversial, or because they don't interest us. Our Creed is the foundation of who we are and to change it, combine it in with another creed, or omit parts is just as much of a sin against our race as mixing with another race. It destroys the very foundation of who we are, physically and mentally. Above all, the integrity of our blood, and the integrity of our Holy Canon must be maintained. A house without a sure foundation cannot stand.

Brother Cochran.

An Open Letter from P.M.E. Matt Hale

December 21, 36 AC (2009 CE)

To whom it may concern,

My leadership as Pontifex Maximus of The Church expired on July 27, 33 AC (2006) and in no way have I directed, have had the desire to direct, nor have had any ability to direct any Church activities since that time and there is no organization of which I am a member.

Speak Up – One Voice Can Make a Difference

By Reverend George Loeb, Jr.
There was a Food Lion grocery store across from where I lived, back when I used to live in Jacksonville. I went into the store with my wife. There were three cashiers, all black. I went to find the manager and told him straight up that I am White and like doing business only with Whites. It is not a racist thing, but it is racial.

Most Whites have a common social and cultural background. We relate well to one another, understand a certain shared mode of expression, a way of life. It is nothing to be ashamed of.

Call it what you want, I communicate better with fellow Whites than I do with blacks. This is not to say I can’t communicate with blacks, but truth be told, I prefer dealing with my own kind and do not like feeling as though I am being forced to do otherwise. I think that as a citizen, and especially as a customer at any business, I should be given a choice.

So at the Food Lion, I spoke to the manager. I told him that I feel a little ill at ease dealing with non-Whites. Told him that all of his cashiers that day were black, he said that he hasn’t noticed, hasn’t really thought of it.

I pointed out that here in the South a lot of White people feel the same way I do, but many would not come to him with their concerns. They would just take their business to a competitor where they always have at least one White cashier on duty. (A Publix or Winn Dixie perhaps?).

Well my little talk with the manager worked. Every day that we went to that store afterwards we noted that there was at least one White cashier.

That’s RaHoWa at work, one small victory at a time. One manager educated, one more White person getting a paycheck. And the results were striking.

We would often note White customers standing in line 5 carts deep waiting at the White cashier’s line. The black cashiers would repeatedly sing out, “no waiting on line 3”, but nobody would move. It was a wonderful thing to see.

I guess the point is that every one of us can have a positive effect and influence outcomes toward survival, expansion and advancement of our race. Stating the facts, exercising common sense or admitting to prefer the company of fellow Whites may be racial, but it is not racist. And yet it is a subtle form of activism. In just a few words, you influence people to think in a pro-White way. In turn, in time, those that you influence will influence others. It’s like a snow-ball rolling down hill, getting bigger, getting stronger, and reinvigorating our White racial instincts.

It starts with one voice – yours. Thus we encourage everyone to speak up, speak the truth – and have strength to know – you can make a difference!

Voices from the Recent Past

Christianity vs. Creativity

By Reverend E.H.

The fact that the White Race is in serious jeopardy of extinction can hardly be debated by rational men. There is no safe haven on this Planet Earth where Whites can flee the advancing hordes of mud races for long. Our population is rapidly declining, miscegenation is on the rise, and the mud birth rate is going through the proverbial roof. Although it takes only a rudimentary understanding of mathematics to determine that we are in serious trouble, and although every White Racial organization recognizes this fact, there is much controversy as to how we got into this predicament - and therefore - no conclusion as to how we get out. The question that I am attempting to answer is: What weakness of character softened the White Race up for enslavement to the Jewish overlords, and furthermore, what ideological influences (or other factors) contributed to this fall from grace? There is a growing schism in the White Racial movement over this issue. We Creators believe that the determining factor has been, and continues to be, that certain form of dead red sea pedestrian worship called Christianity.

Many people that I have personally introduced to Creativity have initially reacted with a degree of confusion as to why we call ourselves a religion, when we exclude the reverence and worship of certain nebulous otherworldly life forms. "Isn't it part of a religion," they wonder, "to profess a belief in things that are not of this world?" This is a serious problem for the White Race, the fact that we have problems relating to and accepting a value system that does not offer the usual myriad of escape chutes, to allow ourselves to leave the pain of reality behind. The nineteenth century belief that man craves to be dependent on a superior energy or concept of life is no longer convincing. Children need to be sheltered and protected from the harsh elements of this world, but as the child grows into adulthood, he desires to be freed from the shackles that bind his soul. He wants to be free: free to think and feel; free to act upon those feelings; free to accept the guilt for his failure or the praise for his success. The Christian only credits "God" or blames the "devil" for his fate. He bows down meekly before a mythical Jewish bastard and begs for help when faced with a challenge. On questions of values and morality, he resorts to a Middle Eastern text written by people who thought that the world is flat. It is not the fact that Christianity has its origins in Jewish mythology that disgusts me the most, but the fact that it is a slave religion designed to attract the weak and make wimps out of formerly strong men. Everything that Christianity teaches reeks of depravity: the passionate longing for an "afterlife" that belittles the value of this world; the glorification of everything ugly and diseased in favor of that which is beautiful and healthy; the childlike relinquishing of responsibility to super-spooks that are in eternal competition for our souls. Once a people become complacent to their fate, little can save them from a punishment of tremendous suffering.-The mythological Christ figure of the New Testament repeatedly glorifies the attitudes of children. "Thou shalt be more like the child, for the child is holy in the eyes of the Lord." What Christ is really saying is that only if you are as gullible and naive as a child could you possibly believe in his doctrine. The result: a complacent population of nameless, mindless zombies floundering around endlessly in an immense vortex that they neither understand nor observe.

We have all felt it at one time or another: the confusion over life's mysteries; the vexation brought about by pondering the endless dimensions of the universe; the feelings of worthlessness in comparison to the unfathomable reaches of time and space. We have all been plagued by the burning question of existence: Why? Why is man here? Where do we come from? Where are we going? Is there reason and rhyme behind the currents and waves of the Universe? Was there ever a beginning? Is the only end awaiting this planet to become a frozen stone circling a dying star? Amid all of these questions stands man. Throughout history, man has fabricated solutions to his problems by means of organized religion. The recipe is simple: in a deceitful and oblique approach, answer these questions that only helps to further confuse man. Then erect an infallible and all-pervasive life form that puts his stamp of approval on the answers. Further include a variety of punishments for even imagining that the explanations could be incorrect, no matter how obscene or insulting they might be. If such a program is promoted relentlessly, the end result is a powerful and organized body of members. But there is one weak link in such a formula: the entire base of the ideology is resting on nothing but a tissue of lies, and as science continues to reveal more and more of Nature's wonders, man finds superstition ever less and less appealing. Christianity has lost its hold upon the masses, evidenced by the decadence permeating both the organized Christian churches and society at large. It is this spiritual vacuum That Creativity -- seeks to fill and shall triumph. Since the entire Christian dogma is based on nonsense that the faithful must accept as truths (although they are offensive to the mind), a certain warping or disabling of a man's cognitive capacities takes place. Suddenly, an entire myriad of nonsense can be accepted as fact: Christ walked on water and rose from the dead, therefore the statement "All men are created equal" appears reasonable in comparison. But in Creativity, we practice the opposite, encouraging our members to scrutinize everything they are presented with, and to declare "false" that which deserves the label. A Creator is the opposite of the child-type so glorified by the Christian doctrine.

Since its inception, and especially through the Middle Ages, the Christian Church was preoccupied more with sexuality than any other issue. It was commonly believed that woman was evil incarnate, since (they claimed) it was Eve who tempted man and led him out of paradise. As a result, women were held in lower esteem than male children. They were forbidden to hold any positions of authority, they were burned at the stake by the thousands for insolence, wife beating was common and legal, and women had absolutely no rights whatsoever. Clergymen practiced homosexuality on a widespread basis to avoid what they considered to be the "filthiness" of women. The Christian philosophers Cyprian and Ambrose asserted that it would be better for mankind to perish than to perpetuate the species through fornication. According to historian Nicholas Carter, "Life was a hell beyond all comprehension for the peasant woman. Like her husband, she was bound by law to the soil. From dawn to dusk she knew only the hardest labor. She could be bought and sold or given away or flogged or killed. Even here children were not her own. She lived in a filthy, chimneyless, single room, with bare-earth floor, and she slept on a hard mat crawling with lice. Fever and plague stricken, dying slowly of want and filth and wretchedness, she labored in a world of droughts, scarcities, famines, crime, violence, scurvy, leprosy, typhoid, wars and pestilences. If half of her children survived infancy, she was lucky." The society that developed under the insanity of the Christian dogma is truly revolting. Human cleanliness was shunned in favor of self-mortification ... it was a time when the dogmatic code considered expressions of love and intimacy to be revolting and evil ... a time when the thumbscrew and rack were considered fair and just tortures for the unbelievers ... when superstition reigned unchallenged, as devotees of righteousness had asserted that there were approximately 7,405,926 demons divided into companies, each under a captain ... when all forms of disease were blamed on these demons and imps ... when it was believed that the imps concentrated their greatest energies towards the corruption of children ... when urine and horse dung were considered medicines ... when monasteries purchased milk purportedly from the Virgin Mary (1500 years old and it hadn't gone bad!) ... when the faithful purchased bags of sand from salesmen insisting that Christ himself had walked on it (perhaps the scent of his feet could be found among the grains!) ... and when man was comforted by his belief in the existence of God, the devil, heaven, hell, and a host of demons, goblins, ghouls, and ghastly things.

But now we stand on the verge of a new era, when man has the opportunity to free himself from the old world of corruption and superstition that spawned hypersensitive imaginations. The old dogma of Christianity is ripe for destruction, and the minds of our White Racial Comrades can be recovered and retrieved from the perpetrators of disease and degeneracy. It was the Jew who first painted the devil on the wall of the world, it was his depraved mind that first conceptualized hell, and then built around the fear of damnation the slave religion that was to become Christianity. But no longer shall our people look to the sky for security in a blazing tempest, for we are in possession of a Warrior's Creed, a White Racial Religion that challenges us to rise and to defy the forces that seek our destruction. No longer must we wallow in guilt and fear that our every action is being judged and criticized by a host of all pervasive spooks. We are free to determine our morality, and this quest has taken us back to the immutable and eternal laws of Nature, where truth and wisdom has been preserved while our kind dwelt in ignorance. The result: Creativity, a Revolution in Values, a secular based religion designed for the survival, expansion and advancement of the White Race. Join us today and help built a better tomorrow for the future generations of beautiful and intelligent White children.

Creator Holidays

The beginning of AC 37 draws our attention and reverence to some of the most important holidays on our religious Creator calendar. The first of which is Festum Album. Brothers and sisters of creativity around the world will have summed up AC36 with the weeklong festival of Festum Album running from December 26 through January 1.

Festum Album, upholds the principles and traditions of Creativity. Decades ago, our founder Ben Klassen gave the White Race its own racial religion for the first time in its history. Likewise, Festum Album has added to our creative traditions, providing the White Race its own pan-European ethnocentric festival. In our glorious future to come, we envision Festum Album celebrated by White families throughout the entire world. It will someday become a world celebration in a White World. Though we as Creators strive to promote the interests of the White Race on a daily basis, it is only fitting that we set aside one week at the year’s end to festively celebrate our Racial Pride and Unity with family and friends.

Read the full article at: http://creativityalliance.com/yule.pdf

Another important holiday that falls within our festival is December 29th. This is an important day for all creators because it signifies White victory in the West. One hundred years ago, on December 29, 1890, at the battle of Wounded Knee Creek, South Dakota, the White Race finally and absolutely triumphed in America. Let us honor and celebrate this glorious day — THE DAY OF TRIUMPH OF WHITE AMERICA — every year, and let us learn and remember the following important lessons of our history… read more at http://www.pacreator.com/US/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=63&Itemid=73

It is equally important to note that as we have our West Victory Day on December 29, we also celebrate and remember the South Victory Day on January 26th. The racial lessons that Ben Klassen wrote out for us to remember not only on the 29th of December but to hold in our hearts and minds and employ the whole year through, also apply for the historical day of the 26th of January, a day of White victory!

P.M. Rev. Cambeul writes on the Creator Forum:

Australia Day (previously known as Anniversary Day and Foundation Day), and also referred to as Invasion Day, is the official national day of Australia. Celebrated annually on 26 January, the day commemorates the arrival of the First Fleet at Sydney Cove in 1788, the hoisting of the British flag there, and the proclamation of British sovereignty over the eastern seaboard of Australia.
Australia Day is an official public holiday in every state and territory of Australia, and is marked by the Order of Australia and Australian of the Year awards, along with an address from the Prime Minister.

Although it was not known as Australia Day until over a century later, records of celebrations on 26 January date back to 1808, with Governor Lachlan Macquarie having held the first official celebration of the formation of New South Wales in 1818. In 2004, an estimated 7.5 million people attended Australia Day celebrations and functions across the country.

Australia Day is seen as controversial by some Australians. There have been significant protests from and on behalf of the Indigenous Australian community. Many Australians see Australia Day as a celebration of the destruction of Indigenous culture by British colonialism. Since 1988, "Invasion Day" protests have been held supporting this view. In light of these concerns, proposals to change the date of Australia Day to other dates have been made. As the date also marks the anniversary of the so-called Rum Rebellion in 1808, Australia Day may be viewed as a commemoration of the only military coup in Australian history. This last view parallels a sort of Independence Day. [continues at at http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Australia_Day]

Australia Day has become a day of pride for the average White people in Australia, a day of mourning for the left-wing liberals prostrating themselves over the diminution of the Australian Aboriginal race, a day of protest and race riots for Abos (who, along with the reds call it Invasion Day), and a day of Victory for Australian Creators.

Last year the GFC agreed to my request to include Australia Day amongst our Creator holy days. We decided to call it South Victory Day (akin to West Victory Day, which is a US based holy day for Creators), as it is not only the date of the arrival of White colonists in Australia in 1788, it is also the date of the conquest of the Australian continent.

From that moment on the battle for the continent was with Nature, and not with the spear-chucking fauna of the land.

So enjoy your South Victory Day celebrations, wave the flag and give a mighty RAHOWA! for those first daring White colonists that crossed the ocean from England.

If that makes me a hillbilly (as the media often call any White person who celebrates Australia Day), then I am one proud hillbilly.

The month of February is perhaps the most near and dear to our hearts as Creators. It is in this month that we remember the birth of our founder Benjamin (Bernhardt) Klassen, and the inception of the greatest idea ever known to man, the greatest gift ever created by nature’s finest themselves, the one and only, true and revolutionary White Racial Religion – CREATIVITY !! We celebrate the birthday of Ben Klassen every year on the 20th of February (Klassen Day) and the arrival of Creativity on the 21st of February (Founders Day). To learn more about our founder you should read Against the Evil Tide the autobiography of Ben Klassen. Find it here: http://www.rahowadirectory.com/eBook-BenKlassen-AgainstTheEvilTide.pdf

Be certain to remember these important times of the year in a Salubrious and Creative fashion, celebrate my brothers and sisters, and work hard to bring about a White world as soon as possible!
